ERIC WORTHLEY

Eric Darrow Worthley is a familiar face in the Portland theater community. He has returned to Snowlion Rep in their next project Anything Helps God Bless, playing a multitude of characters, including city councilor David Marshall, homeless signer Ernest, and even himself.

Eric last appeared with Snowlion Rep in The Maine Dish as a conniving restaurateur and other roles. He has also been seen recently with Vivid Motion dance company and The Crowbait Club Theatrical Deathmatch. He produced and directed Acnestis, a new work created from improvised scenes for the 2015 PortFringe Festival. ANYTHING HELPS GOD BLESS tells the story of panhandlers on the median strip versus the City of Portland - a 100% true tale.

In this workshop production, the conscience of a community is tested when Portland must come to grips with conflicted feelings about homelessness, giving, and individual freedom, as the proposal of a simple public safety ordinance unleashes a torrent of passionate, sometimes outrageous response from all sides that ultimately leads to a heated court battle over Constitutional rights!

This one-of-a-kind collaborative theater piece will be presented at the Portland Ballet Studio Theater:

December 10 at 7:30 pm

December 11 at 2 pm

(both performances followed by a talk-back)

Reservations are now being accepted at (207) 518-9305 and are highly recommended.

$10 suggested donation.
