Snowlion Rep is Theater Made in Maine

What are you doing this January? How about getting out and supporting some live theater?! A production, a reading, a class - plenty to partake of in the coming month.

But be certain to get down to see The Conquest of the South Pole - theater at its most alive! A vivid, quirky, startling look at the lives of some unemployed Maine men looking for a way to empower themselves in a journey of the imagination you'll remember for years to come.

Theater Made in Maine starts with you - make your reservation today!

Sincerely,

Al D'Andrea, Artistic Director
Margit Ahlin, Producing Director
Snowlion Repertory Company

The Conquest of the South Pole* opens January 26th

Four unemployed Rumford Maine mill workers at the very edge of despair concoct an innovative way to empower themselves amidst the hardships of their lives. Led by their magnetic leader Slupianek (Ian Carlsen), they reenact, in an attic crowded with discarded furniture and hanging sheets, Amundsen's successful conquest of the South Pole, in order to face, and hopefully conquer, their own demons.

The Guardian called The Conquest of the South Pole a "vivid, achingly alive play," while The Chicago Critic described it as "a spirited, often funny journey of desperation with loads of heart...filled with humor, wit and a child-like playfulness."

The Conquest of the South Pole will have seven performances:

Friday January 26 at 7:30 pm
Saturday January 27 at 7:30 pm
Sunday January 28 at 2:00 pm
Thursday February 1 at 7:30 pm
Friday February 2 at 7:30 pm
Saturday February 3 at 7:30 pm
Sunday February 4 at 2:00 pm

Performances are at the Portland Ballet Studio Theater, 517 Forest Avenue, Portland. Tickets are $20 and can be purchased at our website or by calling (207) 518-9305. For more info, visit:

PLAYLAB features a beautiful new play about friendship

by Paul Dervis

At Café Pamplona in Harvard Square, a man must come to terms with the actions - and inactions - he took in the life and death of his best friend.

An intimate peek into how friendships age, wither, and ultimately ripen with time, Dave's Last Name by Paul Dervis will be featured in this month's PLAYLAB series, where Maine playwrights get an airing of their brand new full-length works for the stage.

WHEN: Tuesday, January 30 at 7:00 pm
WHERE: Portland Ballet Studio Theater
517 Forest Avenue, Portland, ME

FREE and open to the public
(suggested donation $10)

(207) 518-9305 or snowlionrep.org for more information

PLAYLAB supports Maine playwrights - we hope you'll come support PLAYLAB!

Imagination and Instinct: The Spirit of Acting Technique

Coming this winter - shake off the blues and venture out for a class that stretches the imagination and hones the instinct of the actor at any level of training!

Based on the seminal work of the legendary Stella Adler and Hollywood sensation Stephen Book, this class will open up your actor's instrument, lending authenticity and spontaneity to your future performances. Don't miss it!

6 Sundays 6-8:30 pm
February 11 through March 18, 2018

at Studio 408, located at 408 Broadway
South Portland

Cost for this Class: Only $149

SPACE IS EXTREMELY LIMITED to keep the class size small
