Christmas in July? Why not?

Our planned production of The Christmas Bride in Concert has been postponed due to staffing issues, but will be seen in a variety of venues in July!

This will not be the first time this show has performed in the summer. One of its most successful outings was in Bethlehem, PA, where Christmas in July was a sell-out for multiple performances at the 400-seat Foy Concert Hall.

We'll keep you posted as plans finalize, but for now, keep a little of the Christmas spirit in reserve for one of the most beautiful scores and touching stories you'll ever see in a Dickens Christmas musical!

A Stellar Season!

Our most recent season of shows, and the first since the pandemic, featured THREE glorious productions. If you saw all three, or even one, you'll remember the high quality of acting, story, and production values that were evident.

MEANINGFUL ENTERTAINMENT is what Snowlion Rep is all about.
How many of these shows did you see this past season?
