In Rehearsal Right Now - RED - Soon to Open at Railway Village in Boothbay!

Iconic abstract expressionist painter Mark Rothko creates amazing art (both verbal and visual) in the Tony Award-winning play RED by John Logan

Al D'Andrea* as artist Mark Rothko admires his latest painting with Tristan Rolfe as apprentice Ken

Red is now in rehearsal and soon to come to Boothbay at the beautiful Town Hall on the grounds of Railway Village. Red is the compelling account of a giant of the art world (Rothko) as he struggles to synthesize his growing fame with his artistic purity. His apprentice and artistic foil, Ken, brings a new urgency to the creation of Rothko's greatest commission - a series of murals for New York's most famous restaurant, The Four Seasons.

Rothko mixes paint and matches wits with an ever more confident Ken

Ken, learning at the feet of the master, ultimately leads Rothko to a new understanding about his art and about society, and forces Rothko to answer his own essential query - "What do you see?"

Rothko torments and teaches, mentors and maddens his apprentice

Only six performances of this remarkable and timely show. Seats are limited so get your tickets to RED today!

"A visceral exercise in art appreciation [from] a brilliant mind that asks you to feel the shape and texture of thoughts." - NY Times

"Artist Rothko's howls are pure music." - Variety

"The shifting dynamics in this brutally honest portrait of the artist make for the most intellectually stimulating 90 minutes Broadway has seen in years." - NY1

The artist's all white studio provides the backdrop for Ken's initiation into the world of abstract expressionism as Rothko expounds on the significance of art
